me: got that former Newsweek Baghdad correspondent to join up and even told him about the secret long-term mission and he's totally down for everything me: Hastings, you guys had him on with Scott the day before me me: also, could I write you a piece discussing the status of the project and asking again for participants?
me: with some commentary on relevant information-age dynamics thrown in and perhaps a mention of/link to the antiwar interview?
me: let me know when you get a moment
